Profile

I am a performer who take desired action to complete the missions at hand. I can read and digest music and information very well and apply it to the conversation at hand. I am pretty open-minded about many topics/ideas people have and am mostly comfortable talking about the topics. I do sports outside of work, I am an excellent bowler that has average over 200+ in league this past year and have bowled in many tournaments to earn money from bowling.

Employment History

1 Customer Service Associate

Lowe's, Harrisonburg, VA

Jul 2022

My Job was to help provide excellent service to my fellow associates and customers to help build a positive environment and help grow the company. My main focus was to stock the shelves, clean the store, and help customers find or load product they have purchased. I have worked with a variety of folks over the years and from learning how to use the powered equipment and the expectations of the job, I could further my knowledge onto new hires to show them the expectations of the job from my prior experience.

Education

2 Music Performance

Bridgewater College,
Bridgewater

Aug 2022 – May 2026

I just graduated from Bridgewater College with Honors in Music Performance with learning about music and playing different types of music. I also completed a Psychology minor alongside it to apply these skills to any job that comes my way. I was able to take on leadership roles within ensembles at the school, perform at my best within every class I took, and enjoy the process of learning and creating. I have performed at many places in virginia and even outside of the state and country. I performed a Jazz concert in Delaware and the Marching Band performed in the New Year's Day Parade in London in 2023.

Hobbies

I am really enjoy bowling, I participate in a bowling league between 1-2 times a week and regularly bowling tournaments in the area. I love playing video games, I play a lot of RPG like games and do many things on my computer and Nintendo Wii. I compose music, so I create music from scratch or from another piece of work and make my own original arrangement of the piece. I enjoy going on walks around the park or other places in town to get outside and enjoy nature. I write journals about my day and document events that have happened during the day and my reaction to them.
